John Walter & The Walter Family Band

WALTER, RINGLING

Posted By: Lyn Lysne

McGregor, Ia. – Special: Every evening now Dr. John Walter, 79, plays his concert for a while, a thing he has been doing with few exceptions ever since he was 12 years old.

It may be a classical piece, it may be a song or waltz of 50 years ago-or it might be a modern selection-all depending on his mood.

Music Museum: He does his practicing in a room in his home which he has turned into a music museum. A large cabinet holds a library of band, orchestra, trio, duet, and solo music that has been accumulated over a period of nearly 70 years and at a cost of several thousand dollars. There are first editions of Sousa's marches and rare compositions, once popular but now practically unknown and out of print. Numerous old band instruments are on display–one an 80-year-old shoulder cornet with rotary valves. A table is covered with traps devised and used in a day when few hands in the Middle West had them. The collection includes Swiss bells, anvil, steamboat whistle, and a variety of bird songs. The museum walls are decorated with 50-year-old pictures of the "Walter Family Band," posters of "Al G. Field's Gold Band," celebrated band of the 90's, with Dr. Walter's brother, Will, wielding the baton. There are pictures also of the Ringling Brothers at various stages of their rise to circus fame.

Dr. Walter's house stands where August Ringling, father of the circus men, had a harness shop in the 70's. Across the street in buildings long since torn down, the Walters and Ringlings lived neighbors and the children of the two families played together. Al Ringling and John were pals. During the summers they used to work in a garden together. Al had an old white horse which was supposed to be a help in the garden, but more often than not Al was practicing fancy bareback riding while John did the hoeing.

Declined Offer: When the Ringlings first took to the road with a small wagon show, they had the "Walter Family Band" play for them at Prairie du Chien and other Wisconsin and Iowa towns. The band made a hit and the families were such good friends that Al Ringling asked Peter Walter, John's father, to take a partnership in the circus. But Father Walter decided his McGregor business held out much better promise for the future and declined with thanks.

Dr. Walter has practiced dentistry in McGregor for 59 years and still goes to his office daily. He was the town's mayor for 20 years, has been president of the Iowa Municipalities' League and president of the Northeastern Iowa Dental Association, but it is of the "Walter Family Band" that he loves best to talk as he nears his 80th birthday.

His father in early days had a furniture factory and paint shop in McGregor-the bedstead that hung out in front for a sign was a landmark. The family lived over the factory. Peter Walter, as soon as his five sons and daughters were old enough, taught each of them to play a band instrument. John, being the oldest, was the first pupil.

When he was 14, he made his first appearance in public, playing a cornet in the McGregor Band as it marched up Main Street in a Fourth of July celebration. Absorbed in his playing and with eyes glued to his music, the boy heard with pride the sidewalk crowds cheering. Then he looked up and saw he had fallen far behind the band and they were cheering for that and not as a tribute to his playing.

Two years later, in 1877, when the youngest daughter, Hannah, was seven, the "Walter Family Band" emerged full-fledged. In the organization were Father Walter, John, Emma, Anna, Will, and Hannah. They had practiced every evening except Sundays for years and were to continue doing so for 25 years longer.

The band was a sensation at the start, largely because of the three girls. Not only did they play horns-men's instruments-but marched in parades-both unheard of things for the female sex to do in those days. At the Minnesota State Fair in the early 80s, the curious crowds pressed around them so, they had to have police protection. Little Hannah playing a base horn, was the storm center of attention, Dr. Walter recalls.

For a number of years the band played on the Diamond Jo packets on the Mississippi River for the Summer tourist trade. It was an innovation in steamboating on the river and widely advertised. The program was to play at every landing and to blare forth loudly whenever they passed a packet of rival companies that didn't have bands. A band concert was given in the salon in the evening, or they sometimes played for dancing. "But there wasn't much dancing on the old packets," says Dr. Walter. "Gambling was the sport, Father used to take a hand in it sometimes. He was an expert enchre player, and could hold his own at the gaming tables even with the professional gamblers."

Several season the band played in St. Louis during the Veiled Prophet fiesta.

"Floor shows" probably are considered quite a modern feature of dance orchestra entertainment, but as long ago as 50 years, the "Walter Family Band" was doing stunts in concert work. A specialty was their roller skating act, introduced at the height of the roller skating craze. They would take the floor as a band, and play and skate.

“We young folks were pretty good skaters-Emma really quite fancy.” Dr. Walter said. “But father never could learn. He wouldn’t give up though, and always insisted on skating with us. He never fell, but he was so awkward and funny, the crowd used to roar. They believed he was clowning. A circus company and a New York vaudeville show both made him flattering offers to put our act on in the East, but again, as with the Ringlings, he voted to stay by McGregor, and keep us just together as the “Walter Family Band”.

It was after Will had left and become famous and the daughters had married, that nightly rehearsals in the old home ended. The band broke up in 1902.

Preface

When compiling a family history, one wishes to know everything about everyone. I would have settled for a snippet of biography for everyone but if I waited until all the gaps were filled, the book would never be done.

The research for this book was started about thirty seven years ago. In the beginning my documentation of references was poor, then I started a card file system that worked very well until the advent of the home computer. The computer necessitated another filing system which was again converted when my programs were updated. All this is to say that I probably have not listed every reference that I have ever used but I have cited as many as possible.

Church records are a major source of information in Germany however, there is little to no indexing of the records so one must have a date within a few years before a search can be made. Having some basic dates I had a modest amount of success in proving one generation in Germany and obtaining the names of the generation previous to that.

A word about the spelling of names. There are German spellings, Americanized spellings, misspellings, family changes and mistakes. One family change that will be quite noticeable is Walter and Walters - there are some of each. I have tried to follow the spelling each line used, by using the spelling on a tombstone or what a descendant has given me. The correct German spelling does not have an "s" at the end. And please excuse me (an inform me) if I have made any spelling errors with your name!)

Also, you will find the words - about, possibly, maybe, perhaps, circa - used quite frequently. Some are used when no date is known or proven, to give the readers an idea of the time frame. Other times a fact cannot be proven completely but there is good circumstantial evidence to indicate the statement is true.

I want to thank everyone who contributed material, pictures and encouragement. Rather than error by omission I will not try to thank any individuals here but, please notice the footnotes and you will see many cousins mentioned. Much of the "unfootnoted" material especially under 1-Michael, is from the Walter-Goebelt booklet they have maintained.

There is a Walter reunion held in the park at Deshler OH on the third Saturday in August. If you could attend, we would love to meet you. Call Art Goebelt (847-675-6542) or Betty Minneman at (419-893-8016) for details.

I hope you enjoy the book.

How To Follow the Numbering System

I have arranged this book in a different fashion than is commonly used in genealogical publications and I believe will be simple to follow.

The first section in this book concerns the ancestors who did not leave Germany. The chapter for the eldest generation that immigrated is next. At the end of that chapter the five children of Johann George and Elisabetha Barbara (Keller) Walter are listed. These children are listed in order of birth and have the corresponding numerical designation. The five ensuing sections follow one of these children bringing their line down to the present generation.

Each succeeding person is also assigned an alphabetical code and this code remains with them through the book and no two people have the same code. First a person is listed as a child with their parents, with a number and then the alphabetical code. If there is an "*" preceding their name, it indicates there is more information on this person later in the section. The next time they appear they will be the head of the family with their children listed afterwards. The code identifies the person by their rank in the family plus it indicates which immigrant child is their parent. Thus: "1AB" would be the second child - of the first child - of child "1." Or: 1AB is Ida Christine Goebelt who is the second child of 1A Elizabeth Walter who is the oldest child of 1-Michael Walter. It sounds confusing here, but when you actually read the book, it will not be difficult to follow.

When you send additions, corrections or updates, please include the identifying code with the information.

There is a complete index at the end of the book which should circumvent any confusion with the numbering system. Females are indexed by their maiden names only.

The first document found for George and Barbara is their marriage record in Germany.[1] This record shows George was a Protestant and Barbara was Catholic and I believe, mixed faith marriages were quite unusual in that era. The marriage record gives all of their parents names including their mother's maiden names. The witnesses at the wedding were Johann Michael Walter and Franz Peter Görenflo.

There were two Catholic churches in Sandusky OH when the family first arrived there. A request for a search of those records did not produce any listing for Barbara or any of her children. The records would not have been in English, so one hopes the researcher was familiar with whichever language was used.

Immigration Permission

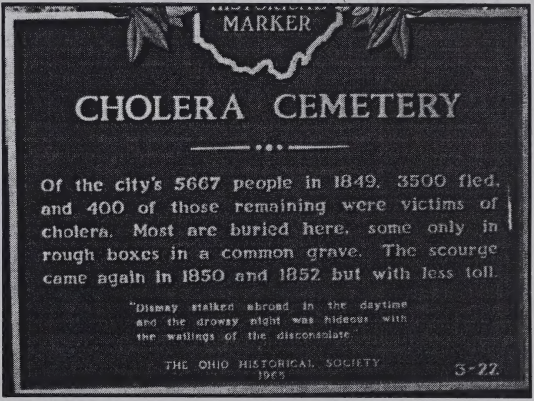
The permit that allowed George, Barbara and their family to leave Germany for America, was dated 7 December 1846.[2] When their sons were naturalized, they all stated they had come to America in 1847 or in April 1847. However, after many hours of searching ship passenger lists[3] no register was found for the family.

One usually wonders why our ancestors chose to immigrate at a particular time. Political and economic conditions were relatively calm in Baden during the time George and Barbara grew to adulthood. There was a minor revolution in 1848 and perhaps just prior to that time there were factors that led the Walters to believe it might develop into a greater turmoil than it did. Regardless of the specific reason, all immigrants hoped and planned for better living conditions in the new land.

George purchased the property at 7 Camp St. in Sandusky OH on 22 April 1848[4] for $150.00. The most important document found for George was the deed[5] dated 14 September 1855. At the top it states: Heirs of George Walter, dec'd to Charles David and Henry Bringman. By this conveyance the heirs sold their father's property for $400.00. On that date, Michael was living in Hardin Co. OH, Eva was already in Henry Co. OH while George, John and Peter were still living in Sandusky OH. It also gave the names of the spouses for those who were married - Michael, George, John and Eva.

The dates of the property purchase and sale help confirm the dates of death for George and Barbara. It is suspected George died in the first cholera epidemic in Sandusky. His death date in August 1849 is in the middle of one of the worse epidemics that city would see. The sale date would be logical for Barbara's death in late 1854. The death dates given for George and Barbara (at the beginning of chapter) were taken from a slip of paper in the Walter-Goebelt Reunion minutes. It was obvious this paper was a copy from another source, but previous research had already indicated the death for George would be between 1848 and 1849 and for Barbara between 1850 and 1855.



CHOLERA CEMETERY

Of the city's 5667 people in 1849, 3500 fled, and 400 of those remaining were victims of cholera. Most are buried here, some only in rough boxes in a common grave. The scourge came again in 1850 and 1852 but with less toll.

"Dismay stalked abroad in the daytime and the drowsy night was hideous with the wailings of the disconsolate."

THE OHIO HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Barbara, along with three of her sons, was found in the 1850 Sandusky census.[6] There were also other young people living in the household but no relationship to the Walter family could be found. With so many deaths in 1849, it does not seem improbable for one family to take in members of another family especially if loss of parents occurred.

As will be noted later, two sons, George and John, became members of Emmanuel Evangelical Church in Sandusky and registered their families there. These records also gave information on George and Barbara.

One source stated George and Barbara had two children who died before age twenty-one. Lacking any other knowledge of these children, they will only be mentioned here and nothing further will be noted. The descendants of all five children listed below are in this book. The number given to them here, will be the first digit of their descendants identifying code.

Michael was born at six in the morning and baptized at 3 o'clock that same afternoon. The baptismal record lists Michael's godfather as Johann Michael Walter, son of Abraham Walter. It is suspected this Johann Michael was an uncle to the subject of this sketch. The witnesses to the baptism were Michael Walter, 43 years old and Abraham Walter, 38 years old.

Christina was the daughter of Christian and Sophia (Groh) Lehmann and a sister to Caroline Lehmann (see George Walter - 3)

Michael Walter

Michael made his Declaration of Intent to become an American citizen on 17 January 1851. His naturalization was on 10 February 1853 in Erie Co. OH.

Although an obituary states Michael studied medicine in Germany and practiced most of his life, other information, especially the census records, show he had many different occupations. He was a mason and tanner besides the occupations listed below. Perhaps the practice of medicine was a sideline to his other work as early doctors, while well respected, were not always well paid.

Michael and Christina began their married live living with the Lewis Newent family. According to the 1850 Sandusky, Erie Co. OH census, Lewis was a farmer and Michael also gave his occupation as a farmer.

On the 28th. of January 1852 Michael purchased lot #22 on Jackson St.[4] for $150. This property appears to be an L shaped lot with frontage also on Jefferson St.[5] Even though the monetary amount was small, there were "appurtenances" upon the lot which means there was a building or additional improvements rather than it being an empty lot. This property had belonged to Sophia Lehmann who was Christina's mother and it was being sold by the heirs of Sophia Lehmann to Michael. On 22 August 1855, Michael and Christine of Hardin Co. OH[6] sold this same property to Peter Walter.

[5] Erie Co. OH Recorder - Deed Vol 13 pg. 8

An Erie Co. OH deed[7] dated 14 September 1855, documents Michael and his brothers and sister, as the heirs of George Walter, selling the property at 7 Camp St. This had been their father's home and it is an especially important deed for this research since it lists all of the siblings, the spouses of those married and where they were living at that time.

During the years Michael lived in Sandusky, he purchased and sold several parcels of land. Some were acquired with his brother George but they did not keep them long and the purpose of these transactions is unknown. From the Sandusky City directories we find Michael lived at 86 Monroe St. in 1855 and at 60 Meigs St. from at least 1858 until he moved to Bucyrus in 1860.

By the Crawford Co. OH deed[8] of 22 August 1867 Michael purchased a ¾ acre lot in Bucyrus. He paid $750 for this lot which had a house already erected on it. The lot description is somewhat complicated and one would surmise that it was not an ordinary rectangle. This is the home in which Christina spent the rest of her life, and where Michael lived until moving to Deshler in 1917.[9] Just before 23 May 1904, Michael and Christina deeded this homestead to their daughter Caroline Schaade. In return, she granted them a life estate on the property whether she outlived them, or they outlived her. As she was an unmarried[10] daughter, and they had been living together for some time, it seemed a reasonable arrangement. As it happened, Michael and Christine both outlived Caroline and the property was inherited by Caroline's children after Michael's death.

Michael before 1901

Evidently Michael, Christina and their young family moved to Bucyrus in the summer of 1860 as they were missed that census year. The 1870 census of Crawford Co. lists Michael and family in Bucyrus and he is working in a hub factory. Finally, in the 1880 census, Michael lists his occupation as a doctor. His daughter Eva and one year old Frank Walter were living with him and his daughter Caroline Schaade and her three children were living next door. In 1900 Michael is listed as living on Galen St. and is again a physician. His daughter Caroline Schaade and grandsons John Schaade and Frank Walter are then living with him and Christina. The 1910 census finds Michael and Christina living alone and he is still a practicing doctor. In 1920 Michael is listed as a widower and was living with his daughter Elizabeth Goebelt in Deshler, Henry Co. OH.

[9] Unidentified newspaper obituary
[10] Divorced

In Christina's will she leaves all her goods, chattels, personal property and all lands, tenements and hereditaments to her beloved husband Michael. Upon his death, all her goods, chattels and personal property were to go to her daughter Elizabeth Goebelt. Her lands, tenements and hereditaments were to be divided equally between her children Elizabeth Goebelt, Peter Walter and Eva Pratt. This indicates Christina likely owned other property besides the homestead. She wrote her will in August 1912 and signed it in German. [11] It appears Michael did not write a will of his own.

According to her death certificate, Christina had not been ill as it states she had had no medical attendance. She was found dead in bed and the cause was judged to be "probably apoplexy." However, two obituaries were found for Christina and one, from an unidentified Bucyrus newspaper, contradicts the death certificate. It states she had been ill for two weeks but had been up and around the house. During the night she had a "sinking spell" and died shortly after which was about 2 o'clock in the morning. Her funeral service began at her home and continued at the German Reformed Church. This obituary also states she was the last surviving of the five siblings in her family and continues by stating "Mrs. Walters was a true and faithful Christian lady, a loving mother, a true helpmate to her husband, a kind friend." The second obituary was in the Bucyrus News Forum on 31 January which was after the funeral and it mentions there was a large attendance at the funeral

Michael suffered a stroke on 21 July 1920 and was treated by Dr. O.L. Norris for the next few months. At age 96, the apoplexy finally took his life. He was the last survivor among his siblings, outlived three of his own children and of course, his wife. After services in Deshler his body was returned to Bucyrus for burial next to Christina.

Four obituaries were found for Michael. The Bucyrus New Forum[12] states he was "for many years a leading figure in the history of Bucyrus." The Deshler Flag[13] relates that Michael had gone to live with his daughter Elizabeth in Deshler in 1917. It also states Michael had been a man of "exceptional strength and vigor" until his illness developed in July. He was bedridden from that point on but "never complained and bore his sickness with very great patience."

The last obituary from an unidentified Bucyrus newspaper, has the most unusual details of Michael's life. The lead line states he practiced medicine for over a half century and was credited with possessing supernatural powers. His former patients had a "staunch faith" in his skill in fighting maladies and they did believe he possessed supernatural powers. He made no claims of these powers but the patients stated that "his treatments, accompanied often by incantations, cured when all others had failed." The article continues by stating "Dr. Walter" studied medicine in Germany and practiced here through all of the years of his residence in this country. When the state laws required physicians to pass state examinations and have certificates to practice, Michael found himself unprepared to fulfill the modern requirements. He continued to give treatments and medicine but charged no fee however, he did accept voluntary contributions.

ABRAHAM S. MEYER

Caroline's obituary indicates Andrew died while they were married but then gives his death date as 1896 which does not coincide with the date of her second marriage. This later marriage was short lived, terminated by divorce, and she reverted to the Schaade surname.

As mentioned before, Caroline moved in with her parents before 1900 and they deeded her their homestead in return for a life estate in the property. This deed of May 1904[27] stated the premises in question was the "same premises all had been sharing for some time." As both of Caroline's parents outlived her, the property did not go to her heirs until 1920 when Michael died.

According to her obituary in the Bucyrus News Forum,[28] Caroline had been ill for a considerable length of time prior to her death. It was thought she had stomach cancer. She had spent the previous summer and fall with her daughter Emma in Deshler OH, returning to Bucyrus just three weeks prior to her death. Her funeral services were conducted at the German Reformed Church in Bucyrus. Her obituary also stated she had been a good daughter, wife and mother and every ready to do a kindness for anyone in need. It also states she had six children although three died young.

Peter and Minerva lived in several different places while raising their family. They were living in Whitehouse, Lucas Co. OH in 1900[34] but were back in Bucyrus OH during the 1908 to 1910 period. By 1913[35] they were at 235 Shepler in Toledo OH and remained there at least through 1920. At the time of his death, Peter was living at 612 Prouty.[36]

Most records show Peter as a laborer, often working odd jobs but he was also a watchman for the railroad and later worked for the Toledo Edison.

Minerva was the daughter of Joseph Wert.

There is still confusion with Eva's children. At the time of the 1880 Crawford Co. census,[42] Eva was living with her parents. There was a one year old, Frank Walter, in the household and it is suspected this child was hers. Her obituary gives her children as Cora Burk, Frank Pratt and Ida Shumaker. Also, Cora Burk is listed as born in 1881 which is before Eva's marriage to Robert. There is a possibility of errors in the records I used[43] and Cora went by the name of Pratt so she will be listed as that.

Robert was the son of Henry and Katherine Pratt. In the 1900 census for Bucyrus[44] Robert gave his occupation as a section hand, while the 1910[45] census shows him as an ironworks helper.

The obituary for Eva Catherine in the Bucyrus Tele-Forum [46] mentions she had been ill for at least eight months with heart disease. She was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Bucyrus and the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

Conrad and Lena had a farm located in Section 15 of Township 3 Range 8, Bartlow Twp.[49] which contained nearly thirty-seven acres. They kept this farm even though they moved to Brighton MI by 1928. When this property was sold, the deed[50] gave a detailed description of the easements and right-of-ways across it that Conrad had granted to the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

Because of owning property in two states, Conrad's will was filed in both Livingston Co. MI (on 27 September 1966) and in Henry Co. OH (in February 1969). He gave Lena all his personal property and a life estate to his real estate and after her death, it was to be divided among their children in equal shares.

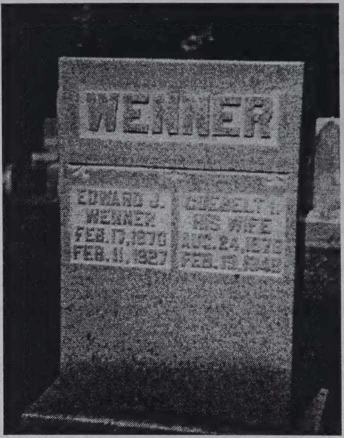
Edward took his own life, out in the barn on his farm. This shocking and sorrowful scene was discovered by his daughter-in-law Georgia. An obituary in the Western Reserve Democrat[54] gave the grizzly details of how the suicide was implemented. The Deshler Flag [55] began by stating: "It is with profound regrets that such a sudden and tragical (sic) circumstance should overwhelm a friend and former fellow citizen." He was said to be hard working, honest, friendly and active in various activities which made his death even more mystifying. Edward was the son of Jacob and Caroline (Beck) Wenner.



It appears Ida lived in several places after Edward's death and was living with her son Charles in Wellington OH when her own death occurred. Her obituary in the Deshler Flag[56] states she was a member of the American Legion Auxiliary. She had been a Presbyterian most of her life but changed to Methodist when she moved to Wellington.

By 1900 Abraham and Emma had settled on a small Bartlow Twp. farm which they increased to ninety-seven[80] acres by 1921. Besides being a farmer Abraham was also a thresher owning at one time, seven machines.

Abraham was the son of Jacob and Caroline (Beck) Wenner who moved to the Deshler area about 1873. As a youth, Abraham helped clear the land for the Wenner School and then attended that school.

The grizzly story of Abraham's death by a charging bull was a front page story in the Deshler Flag.[81] Abraham had gone out to check his fields but had not returned by supper time. The family was uneasy so his son Dale went out to search for him. Dale found the gored body of his father but then was distracted by the bull who began to charge at him. Dale dodged the bull, was caught and tossed in the air and finally with much sidestepping and running, was able to exhaust the animal. Meanwhile another son, John, went looking for his father and brother and found his father but did not see the distress Dale was in as by then they were some distance away from the body.

An additional obituary in the Deshler Flag [82] states Abraham was "a devoted husband, a kind, and helpful father, a loyal neighbor and friend, and a whole-hearted believer in his Savior."

Emma remained Abraham's widow for the next twenty-three years. She became ill about three years before her death but was able to remain in her own home in Deshler. She was a member of the German Reformed Church in Bucyrus.

ANDREW SHERMAN (Schermann)

b: 18 September 1825 in Altheim Wuertemberg[4]
d: 31 January 1897 in Napoleon, Henry Co. OH
bur: Trinity Lutheran Cemetery, Detroit, MI

Eva was born at eleven Saturday evening and was baptized the following day at three in the afternoon. Eva's godmother was Katharina Keller, daughter of Joseph Keller and his wife Katharine Fahlbusch. The witnesses were Peter Nubacher a 26 year old citizen of Hockenheim and Abraham Walter who was then forty years old. This is likely the same Abraham Walter who witnessed the baptism of Eva's brother Michael.

Andrew was the son of Johannes and Maria Anna (Nafz) Schermann. Jack Sherman[5] obtained information on three more generations of both the paternal and maternal lines taking this family back to births in the early 1700's in Germany.

In 1852, while still a resident of Erie Co. OH, Andrew purchased forty acres of land from the United States government. This patent [6] was for property in Section 18, Township 5, Range 6 east in Henry Co. OH. The price of the land was not listed but it did state the full payment had been received. President Millard Fillmore's signature appears on the patent although it was actually written by the Assistant Secretary, Alexander McCormick. Afterwards, Andrew purchased several other lots including In Lot 120[7] and Lots 26[8] and 34[9] in Phillips Addition of Napoleon.

By 1855 Eva and Andrew had settled on their farm in Henry Co. The 1860 census[10] gives the value of their real estate at $1,200 and they had $500 in personal property. By the 1870 census[11] Andrew had increased his real estate holdings to $8,000 in value and his personal property to $1,000.

Andrew was a farmer but in the winter he supplemented his income by making shoes. Family members remember being told Andrew walked "a long ways" to buy the leather and then would carry it home over his shoulders.

Elizabeth Nellie Eva John (back) George, Andrew &Joseph

There is conflicting information on whether Eva and Andrew made a permanent move to Detroit. They had not sold their property in Napoleon, however, they did live in Detroit for extended periods as they were listed in the Detroit City Directory. Andrew wrote his will (in 1895) when he was "about 70" and living in Henry Co. which was the same year he was first listed in the Detroit City Directory. There is no record of his death in Henry Co. nor was an obituary found there. With this information and other tidbits, one would surmise that Andrew was no longer actively farming and was probably renting out his land. They likely went to Detroit for extended visits since all of their children were living there and it was coincidental that they were there at the time the city directory inquiries were made.

Andrew left all real and personal estate to Eva during her lifetime. He left George Schumacher $200 which was to be paid one year after the death of Eva. In addition, after Eva's demise, all remaining property was to be divided equally between his children. John S. Sherman was the executor of the will. The estate accounting shows Andrew's casket and funeral cost $87.00 while the cost of probating the will was $37.75.

The family lot in Trinity Cemetery (Detroit) was purchased 15 February 1890 but in reality, was probably done at the time of Elizabeth's death. The address of the purchaser was given as 3903 Meldrum which is not associated with any other family information.

2A ELIZABETH SHERMAN was born 20 April 1850 in Erie Co. OH. She married GEORGE J. SCHUMACHER on 27 October 1881[12] in Henry Co. OH. They also moved to Detroit where Elizabeth died 14 October 1889. She is buried in the family plot at Trinity Lutheran Cemetery.[13] The only other information concerning George was the item in Andrew's will leaving George $200. It appears they did not have any children, or at least, surviving children.

2D JOSEPH P. SHERMAN was born 24 November 1859 in Henry Co. OH. He married NELLIE M. ADAMS on 11 October 1900 in Wayne Co. MI. Nellie was born 6 February 1870 in Fayette, Fulton Co. OH. Nellie died 3 March 1901 in Detroit and Joseph died in that city on 12 September 1915. They are both buried at Trinity Lutheran Cemetery, Detroit. From property deeds in regards to the settlement of his father's estate, we find Joseph was living in New Orleans in 1897 and later in Ross Co. OH however, Detroit was his main residence. The 1891 Detroit City Directory lists Joseph with a livery at his residence at 208 Second St. in Detroit. He had maintained this business for ten to twelve years when he returned to school and became a doctor of veterinary surgery. His great-niece[14] stated he also trained race horses and had been very successful with that venture. (See picture on page 94 )

John worked for a hardware store in Napoleon for about eight years before he and George Harms formed a partnership and opened their own store. They operated this store about three years preceding the move to Detroit in 1884 where they continued the retail hardware business under the name of Sherman & Harms.

In the back room of the hardware John made various parts by hand and assembled a gravity type oil kitchen stove. The partners named it the "Red Star." This stove's operating system was simple, safe and efficient. Before long they realized they needed a larger place to manufacture their stoves so they rented an entire floor and outfitted it with machinery that could produce the parts in volume. Business was so good they finally established a complete factory for the stove's production, naming the enterprise the Detroit Vapor Stove Company. John was the Manager of the organization for many years but became president in 1910. George H. Harms was the company treasurer. In the new factory they used a straight line production to it's maximum and utilized every modern piece of machinery that would increase efficiency. This method, along with the superior quality of their product, was extolled as a "tribute to their genius and far sightedness." [19]

A small item in the Detroit Free Press on August 30, 1919 relates the stove company and it's employees had agreed on a five-day work week. The employees would work five nine hour days and have the week ends free. It had been an experiment during the summer but they agreed to make it a year around schedule. There were five hundred employees at that time.

During WWI the partners turned the company's efforts to manufacturing air tanks for lifeboats and on another contract, constructed complete lifeboats. Young Alvin Sherman looked over the existing designs and suggested several improvements and changes. The government readily accepted the innovations.

After WWI there was evidence the oil stove business had reached its peak and the company should seek other products to manufacture. After exhaustive research it was decided the gas cooking appliance field held the greatest opportunities.

They named their new line the "White Star." Sales were made coast to coast by large department and furniture stores. Sometime in the early 1930's Borg Warner Corp. bought out the company. The stove company continued to operate as a division of Borg Warner into the late 1930's but what happened after that has not been discovered.

George's two wives were sisters and daughters of the Rev. John Adam Huegli who had been pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church for forty years. Emilie died at her residence 1488 Burns in Detroit, was cremated and her ashes are buried with her family.

After his early education in Napoleon, George attended Normal University at Valparaiso, IN and the Medical Department of Northwestern University [22] in Chicago graduating in 1883. His certificate states he "has served faithfully during his allotted time as Assistant to the House Surgeon of Mercy Hospital." He practiced medicine in Napoleon from 1883 to 1884 but then moved to Detroit. He was a member of the American Medical Association, the Michigan State Medical Society and the Wayne Co. Medical Society.

George

The field of bacteriology and immunology was just establishing itself when George went to Detroit. About 1893 his daughter, Gertrude, came down with diphtheria. He ordered serum prepared at a local pharmaceutical house and inoculated Gertrude, his other children and about a half-dozen neighborhood children. Gertrude recovered and none of the others developed the dreaded disease. George's interest in immunology and antitoxins steadily grew.

Home and First Laboratory

About 1905 Sir Almroth E. Wright published a work on the opsonic index and the use of bacterial vaccines in the treatment of disease which excited George. He started developing and testing vaccines and they met with such acceptance that in 1907 he established the Sherman Laboratories to manufacture them. His first laboratory was at his home but he built a separate building in 1914 at 14600-14608 East Jefferson. In 1955 the company again expanded with a 55,000 square foot building at 5031 Grandy Avenue and ten years later added another 10,600 square feet to the structure. George remained in private practice until 1913 but from then on, devoted all his time to the laboratory.

Grandy St.

In 1911 George wrote and published Vaccine Therapy in General Practice which was designed as a textbook for the practicing physician. In it he explains the vaccines and which ones to use for particular diseases, along with case histories of those who were cured. A copy of this small book is in the Burton Collection at the Detroit Public Library.

In December 1922 a disparaging article about the vaccines appeared in the Hearst International magazine. It was one of a series written by Paul H. DeKruif Ph.D. and this one, titled Vaccines for Broken Legs, was number four of the series. DeKruif called Sherman and Parke, Davis & Co. "mongers" for the way they advertised what DeKruif called "fake vaccines." Sherman was accused of advertising that was "copious and quite clever" but "cleverly avoids telling of cases where vaccines have failed to work." The article also states that Sherman and Parke, Davis & Co. did not test their products scientifically or in controlled circumstances. Remembering the infancy of medicine in the 1920's, one can see how curative powers could be scoffed at. At the same time, knowing Parke, Davis & Co. and Sherman Laboratory remained in business, one can deduce the article was biased against them. The Sherman's sued for the inflammatory remarks and they did win, but it took many years to settle the lawsuit.

Sherman Laboratories was bought by Cooper Laboratories of Mystic CT in the spring of 1968. The Sherman Labs would be run as a subsidiary of Cooper with Arthur J., Donald C. and George H. Sherman, Jr. and Alfred R. Glancy Jr. being directors of Cooper. By then the Sherman specialties were prescription pharmaceuticals for allergy and internal medicine. They also were the direct suppliers to hospitals for many items including intravenous solutions.

VEHICLE RUNNING GEAR.
(Application filed Mar. 31, 1902.)
(No Model.)

George was always involved in projects. He made his own automobile in 1900 and used it for ten years to call on his patients. He worked on ideas for spark plugs, demountable tires and an advancing shield to be used for underground tunneling. A patent for improvements in the running gear of automobiles was granted on 3 June 1902. The object of the invention was to provide simple and efficient means for the springs to be relieved from the draft of the driving chain without impairing their resiliency and also to effect a simple manner to take up the slack that may occur in the driving chain. His tire patent was granted on 12 July 1904. It concerned inflatable tires and improvements on the retaining seat and antistretching devices. He called his sparkplug the Neverleak and had applied for a patent before 1907.

He built the power boat Aeolus in 1915 and often used it to travel up the Detroit River and through Lake St. Clair. George loved to fish and went as often as possible. Many times he took his grandson, George Rovin, with him. In later years it was a ploy as the elder George thought he was "taking" his grandson, while the younger George was sent to watch over Grandfather. After 1922 he was in semi-retirement and spent his summers at St. Clair Flats and the winters in West Palm Beach FL.

George was also the head of a coal mining operation in Pennsylvania. Further details of this enterprise are under Carl Marty (2CA) since he was the manager of this business.

George took his children and grandchildren back to Napoleon several times to show them where he had lived. One time he picked an apple from a tree his father had planted. He cut it up for the children with his gold pocket knife, a knife his children say he used for everything.

Gustave worked many years as a clerk at James Lowrie & Son which was at 48 Brigham[26] in Detroit. It is believed this was a grocer since Gustave lists his occupation as a grocer in the 1900 census.[27] From 1902 through 1910 Gustave was listed as a painter in the Detroit City Directory. Apparently he was a very talented artist (not a house painter!) and a few of his sketches are in possession of a family member.

In 1920 Grace is listed in the census[30] as Andrew's widow and their daughters and Grace's sister are living with her. Grace was the daughter of Joseph and Martha (Sinclair) Martin.

Peter was a carpenter and resided at 41 Waterloo, Detroit. He was listed as a foreman in the 1896/97 Detroit City Directory but it does not list his employer. Peter was building a cottage at St. Clair Flats when he contracted typhoid fever. The family felt additional sorrow since Peter refused medical treatment for a disease that could probably have been cured.

Agnes and her daughters were living with her parents (August and Albertine (Beier) Dietrich) in 1910.[31] She remained Peter's widow the rest of her life.

As did his brother Louis, Alvin worked his way up in Detroit Vapor Stove Co. starting in 1903 as a teamster, advancing to a foreman, superintendent, Sales Representative, Sales and Advertising Manager and in 1930, became the president. By 1917 the plant covered 5-1/2 acres, employed five hundred men in the plant and had eighty-five salesmen. They made five hundred stoves a day using an assembly line fashioned after the auto industry.

When the company changed from oil to gas range manufacturing, many of Alvin's ideas were implemented. They were the first to produce a boltless construction and the first to produce an all steel frame including in the door. He designed and patented the first continuous enameling process which synchronized a continuous pickling with the ground coat, and two white coats progressing through three separate enameling furnaces. This also reduced the cost of the enameling process so they could sell the all porcelain ranges at popular prices. Alvin is also credited with introducing the electric lights on stoves.

Although he did not graduate from college Alvin took specialized and intensified courses in English, business, engineering and sales. He always had an inquisitive mind. Alvin traveled widely, many times to out of the way European places and before each trip, he always researched the local culture of his destination.

Alvin

In 1922 Alvin was a director of the Continental Bank, on the Detroit Board of Commerce and was a member of the Society of Industrial Engineers. The 1935 Detroit City Directory lists Alvin's occupation as the Vice President of the Hemmeter Investment Co. and he then resided at 216 Lakeland in Grosse Pointe, MI. Alvin was also a charter member of the Grosse Point Yacht Club and the Detroit Athletic Club.

The 1945 Social Secretary lists his residence as 700 Balfour Rd. in Grosse Pointe Park MI and he was a member of the Kokomo Country Club in Kokomo IN. This unusual combination led to the discovery that he worked at Globe American[35] in Kokomo for about twelve years, as the vice president in charge of Research and Development. He first became associated with Globe as a consulting engineer. In 1944 he was elected Vice President and in 1945 he was elected a director of the corporation.

Due to his work in Detroit on life-rafts during WWI, Alvin began looking for something that could be produced in a stove plant in the advent of WWII and again realized lifeboats would be a good product. He and a Mr. Chester went to Washington and found that for the Liberty Fleet program, there was no standardized lifeboat. With the assistance of a Naval Architect, Alvin quickly developed plans for a 22 foot metallic lifeboat which was oar or motor propelled. Previously the rafts had been made of wood and often broke when being dropped into the sea, burned in oil fires and offered no protection to the seamen. Alvin's design was a welded metallic raft which was sailable, fireproof and would withstand the 45 foot drop into the water. It had water tight compartments which held ample supplies of food, drinking water, blankets, first aid kits, signaling devices, stove, charcoal and a canvas hood that could be rigged to protect the seamen from the elements. This raft was patented and was named the Kokomo Life-Saving Kraft.

[35] After 1945 manufactured for the Maytag Dutch Oven brand name

After many tests, they were approved and accepted by the government for the Liberty ships. When the Victory Ship came out, Alvin developed a 24 foot all steel lifeboat and it was the first lifeboat with welded, built in air tanks. These lifeboats were also used on many tankers, troop transports and hospital ships. Globe became the largest manufacture in the world of safety-at-sea equipment, producing over 60% of life-boats and life-rafts during the war. Their first contract was for 744 lifeboats and they had a second contract for 1,000 more to be done by the end of 1942.

Globe American had a company newsletter called the Dutch Oven. When Alvin retired they wrote a lengthy article about his work and life, stating that "he was such a friend of the men in the shop" that the story would be interesting to all. Here we learn he holds more stove patents than any other man along with various patents in other fields including an automatic ice cube machine.

Alvin had a vacation home in Miami FL and he retired to it in 1951. At Al's 90th birthday celebration most conversations revolved around his event studded life, his continuing concern for his fellow man's safety and welfare, and his genius in perfecting and promoting better ways of doing things. [36]

Albertine had previously been married to Milton Cosgrove and had three children by him, including John Cosgrove and Mary Elizabeth Cosgrove Fletcher.

Edgar graduated from the University of Michigan and Estella studied bacteriology at the same school. She was the first person, after her father, to be responsible for making the Sherman vaccines for commercial use.

Early in his career Edgar was a clerk at the Sherman Laboratory. By 1920 Estella and Edgar had moved to a home next to her father in Detroit. One story states George had built adjacent homes for all of his children so this may have been one of those homes.

About 1922 Edgar and Estelle moved to Pottsville PA where Edgar became the Vice President of the Sherman Coal Corp. The company mined and shipped anthracite coal. They were mining at three sites called the Morris Estate, Richards Estate and Woods Estate which were all located near Wilkes-Barre. Old business papers[41] show their net profit for the month of October 1923 was $6,416. In 1924 they mined 28,000 tons of coal from just the Morris Estate.

In January 1925, Edgar wrote a lengthy letter to Arthur Sherman Jr. outlining several possibilities for further financing for the mines, using bonds. The following April Arthur wrote his father about a great opportunity in purchasing another mining operation from Schuylkill Valley Coal Co. This mine was valued close to $1,000,000 but they could purchase it for about $200,000 in bonds. This mine had just been updated and a new electrically operated breaker had been built. About the time all the renovations were completed, Schuylkill ran out of funds and the market conditions went bad.

In January 1935, Estelle wrote her Aunt[42] and updated her on the mine conditions. She said they had realized several years ago the Sherman mine was running out of coal however, Edgar was able to lease another property. With the depression upon the country, financing was difficult and then only in short term bonds. Edgar had borrowed a substantial amount in his own name to keep the operation running. By that January the landowner closed the mine because the company could not pay the taxes and royalties which amounted to $24,000. There was not even money enough to pay the miners wages for the previous pay day. Aside from the economy, other factors had worked against the company. It had taken more money than anticipated to get the coal to the surface, the coal cleaning plant, which was guaranteed to clean the coal perfectly, did not work properly and so the resulting poor quality did not bring the price it should have.

Although a specific date for the closing of the mining operation was not found, it appears it was sometime in 1935. After this Edgar worked for the U.S. Steel Corp. in New Jersey until his retirement.

Arthur was the scientific director of Sherman Laboratory for over forty years and also the President and Manager from 1932 to the laboratory's sale to Cooper in 1968.

Besides his work in the laboratory, Arthur had a unique business - manufacturing camping trailers. Mary was Vice President of their company which was called the "Covered Wagon Co." while Arthur was the President and Treasurer.

Arthur enjoyed camping with his family but soon found tents and the tent trailers available were very inconvenient and uncomfortable. In 1929 he sat down and designed a new style of trailer and then hired cabinetmakers to build it. It was nine feet long, six feet wide and six feet seven inches high and it cost him about $500.

1930 Model

A 1960 newspaper article[50] gave a few more details on how the business started. When the family traveled with their new trailer they were asked so many questions about it that Arthur decided to display one at the 1930 Detroit Auto Show. To his surprise, he received so many orders that he was forced into production, using the Sherman Laboratory basement and a garage in the rear to build them. They made about 100 units that year.

1935 Model

As the business expanded they moved to a Mt. Clemens MI factory and it soon was too small for their production needs so they had an addition built. Arthur was even ahead of his time on anti-smoking and did not allow it in his factory. There were 1,300 men on the payroll in 1936 and they had 900 authorized Covered Wagon dealers scattered across the states.

Life magazine had a short article in the February 1, 1937 issue announcing the company had applied to the Securities & Exchange Commission for permission to sell the public $600,000 worth of it's securities. The article highlighted the company's success, saying the previous year's sales were $3,000,000 and they were the leader of the industry as one out of every six trailers sold in 1936 was a Covered Wagon. The company was expecting to produce 20,000 units in 1937 using three standard models: the 17 foot Master selling for $645, the nineteen foot De Luxe selling for $865 and the twenty-three foot Custom Coach priced at $1,260. All were built on an all-steel chassis, had electric brakes and tempered-steel springs. The walls were Shermanite which was steel processed to a three-ply laminated wood. The roofs were waterproof duck, painted aluminum to deflect the heat. All had two burner gas stoves with ovens, 50 pound capacity ice boxes, 30 gallon water tanks and enameled kitchen sinks. The De Luxe and Custom Coach also had lavatories with septic toilets and showers.

[50] Unidentified Detroit paper

Fortune [51] magazine had a lengthy article about the whole trailer and camping industry and also repeated some information from the Life article. They mention that nobody is certain who built the first trailer but there were some built in England in 1909 and Glenn Curtiss appears to be the first builder in America in 1917. "But the Ford of what is now called the trailer industry turned out to be a stubborn, middle-aged bacteriologist with a gray cowlick and a passion for puttering who didn't realize, at first, what a good thing he had - Arthur G. Sherman." Any camper would find this article interesting but space limitations prohibit including more of it in this book.

In early 1942 Arthur discontinued production of the trailers to make truck bodies for the government in his facilities. After they war, in 1945, the building was sold to Ironite and the Covered Wagon Co. was liquidated.

In the 1990's there was a resurgence of interest in the history of the Covered Wagon. One researcher, David Thornburg, wrote a book entitled Galloping Bungalows and devotes a chapter to the Covered Wagon, David Woodworth in California has a large collection of the Covered Wagons and David Harmon of Iowa State University is using the production methods of the company as a basis for his doctoral thesis.

Arthur was also very politically minded. He ran, unsuccessfully, for the Republican nomination for Congressman in the 14th. District[52] in 1948. He was a prolific political writer, using pamphlets and "letters to the editor" as his media. One article[53] gave his solution to the National Debt. At that time the debt was two billion with another five billion in interest. He recommended raising estate taxes which would allow a 50% reduction of income tax and also to make changes in how the Federal Reserve bank handled their transactions.

Much of Arthur's free time was spent traveling, camping and boating. In 1933 he bought a used motor yacht, which was over 86 feet long, for $5,000. They named it the Maradon and he and Mary lived on it at the Detroit Yacht Club during the summer. They once traveled on the boat as far as Nassau and they spent several winters on it docked in Florida.

2CCAA GEOFFREY ROVIN was born 16 July 1947 [68] in Detroit MI. He graduated from the University of Michigan and received his Masters degree at Wright State. Arthur studied Engineering and Business at the University of Michigan anticipating a career in the Covered Wagon Company. With the advent of WWII he took special training at Yale and served in the Army Air Force at Wright Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton OH writing military specifications.

After the war, the Covered Wagon company closed so Arthur joined Sherman Laboratory as the sales manager. He remained in that position until Sherman merged with Cooper Laboratories in 1968. At Cooper he was involved in the sale of various subdivisions of the business with one of the largest sales being to a German company for ninety million dollars. He was a director of Cooper until his death.

Dorothy studied history and taught school for a few years. She had a collection of over 550 dolls, many with a historical theme such as Robert E. Lee, Henry VII and Anne of Cleves, Queen Victoria, the Archbishop of Canterbury and Buffalo Bill. She had dolls from all over the world including Africa, Pitcairn Island, Cuba, Germany and Japan. Dorothy loved sharing the stories and the history connected with the dolls.

When the veterans returned from the war, she was reassigned to the women's desk but reporting news of the local social life did not appeal to her. She then enrolled in the University of Michigan Law school, one of two women entering in 1946. Upon graduation her job market was dismal so she headed for Washington state. Finding work in law there was not any better than in Michigan so she decided to accept work as an economist.

In 1975 she was appointed to the Board of Trustees of Bellevue Community College, elected Chairman in 1978 and served through 1982. By 1979 she was teaching

Arthur was born while his father was stationed at Wright Patterson Air Force Base. He studied engineering and education at the University of Michigan, taught math and physics for a year and has worked at several small manufacturing facilities.

At one time the family lived in an old farm house on thirty acres of a subdivided dairy farm. They had a half dozen beef, two Holstein milk cows and other pet stock. After their experience in befriending their animals, Terri and Art became vegetarians.

Terri also attended the University of Michigan where she received her teaching degree. Her first job was in Boyne City and it is there they first fell in love with the northern part of the lower peninsula of Michigan. They are now living on the Old Mission Peninsula north of Traverse City MI and Terri works with the home schooling program.

As part of her education she spent time in Otago New Zealand and enjoyed adding white water paddling and rock climbing to her outdoor loves. She is doing post graduate work at the University of Natal in Durban South Africa. Heidi is also a talented musician and has published a cassette entitled Small Holes in the Silence featuring her playing the Celtic harp.

2CDAAB WESTLEY SHERMAN, a twin to Heidi, was also born 31 October 1972. For a number of years Westley trained for the sport of high kneel canoe sprint racing, spending two summers at the Olympic Training Center in Lake Placid NY. He majored in biology and graduated from MIT in 1991. His postgraduate study is at the University of Michigan. ### CAROLINE LEHMANN

b: 19 November 1833 in Blankenloch, Baden[4]
d: 25 January 1897 in Napoleon, Henry Co. OH
bur: Forest Hill Cemetery, Napoleon OH

George was born at six in the morning and was baptized at five the same afternoon. His godparents were Johann George Walter son of Michael Walter, Michael's wife Magdalena Christ and Katharina Walter, "the single sister."

George was about eighteen when his family immigrated to America. He declared his intention of becoming a citizen on 8 April 1848 in the Court of Common Pleas in Erie Co. OH and was naturalized at the same place in September 1852. His brother John was naturalized on the same day.

George joined the Emmanual United Church of Christ in Sandusky and a register of his family appears in their church book. Both George and Caroline's birth dates, place of birth and their parents names, are listed in the book along with the birth and baptisms of their first three children. The death of their first son is also listed.

Caroline was the daughter of Christian and Sophia (Groh) Lehmann. The witnesses to her baptism were Ulrich Lehmann, his wife Anna Maria Bittler and Fred Onegen and his wife Anna Maria Stöber. No connection was found for these people other than Ulrich Lehmann was likely a close relative to Christian.

The first American record of George is the 1850 census of Portland Twp. Erie Co. OH. He was living with his mother and two younger brothers and listed his occupation as a sailor. The 1855 Sandusky City Directory lists George as an engineer but does not state what type of engineer. The 1858/59 directory show George and Michael as tanners and they were still pursing this occupation in 1860/61.

George purchased and sold several properties while he lived in Sandusky and some parcels were purchased jointly with his brother Michael. George purchased the property at 50 Rail Road St. in August 1856 and he and Caroline sold it in March 1860. In August

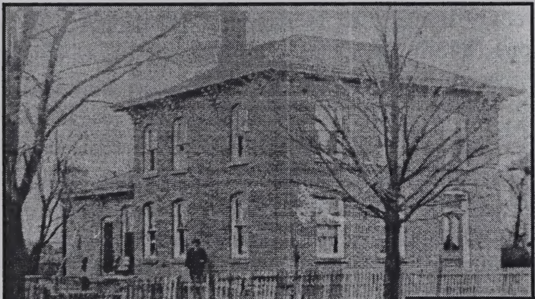
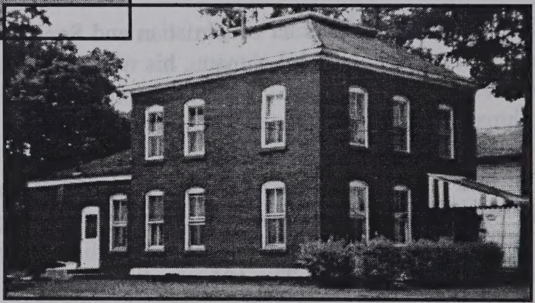
1864 George purchased 16-18 Rail Road St. but sold it in November 1865. They resided at 107 Rail Road St. at least from 1855 through 1861.[5]

George served in the 107th Ohio Infantry as a private, late in the Civil War. He enlisted at Sandusky OH for a one year term on 27 February 1865 however, he only served three months before being discharged so did not qualify for a pension. He was then thirty-nine years old and again listed his occupation as an engineer. His physical description was given as hazel eyes, dark hair, fair complexion and five feet eight and a half inches in height.

By 1870 George and Caroline had moved to Napoleon OH and he was working as a stationary engineer. It has been disappointing not being able to determine the facility where he worked. Four of his closest neighbors worked at the stave factory but this proves nothing. Along with this work, George did a small amount of farming and cattle raising on their "outlot."





Their house on Washington St. in Napoleon has not undergone any drastic altering in its lifetime. A prior to 1900 picture compared with a current one shows newer windows but with the arched topped style retained. There is now a metal awning over the front door and a large brick chimney has been replaced with a small metal one. The roof still is a modified mansard but the large overhang has been removed along with the gingerbread trim on the eaves.

George wrote his will just five months before his death. He left all his property, real and personal, to his wife Caroline. After her death the Washington St. house and his organ were to go to his daughter Celia Strohl. He left his two motherless grandsons lot #15 in Napoleon and his son John was to receive five acres of land in Section 7, Town 5 North Range 7 East. George stated this will was written in conjunction with his wife's will and she would be making the division of all their remaining property.

[5] Sandusky City Directory 1855 through 1861

Thus we find in Caroline's will that her son George would receive out lots 25 and 26 in R.K. Scotts Addition. Peter would receive out lots 21, 22, 23, and 24 in the same addition. She also gave Peter a strip of land which laid between the Erie canal and the Maumee River and was immediately east of lots 25 and 26. It was intended for pasturing two meat cattle and George and Peter were to share in the upkeep and fences. The rest of her property was east of the pasture lot in Section 7 Town 5 N Range 7 East. This land she gave to her daughters Emma Swin and Caroline Swin to be equally divided "by a line drawn from the canal to the river so that each shall have an equal number of acres."

George's tombstone is weathered and worn and every time I visited the cemetery over the years, I would take a picture hoping that somehow, the inscription would be readable. One day, cousin June Davies from Iowa, met me in Napoleon and we went out to the cemetery.

Whether she was the lucky charm I do not know, but the lighting was perfect and the writing on the tombstone stood out absolutely clear!

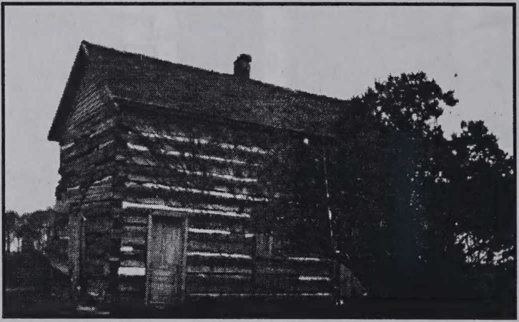
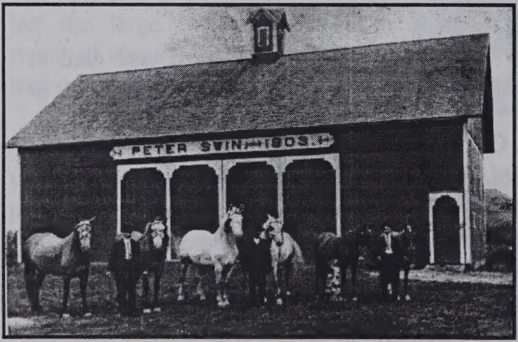
Peter was the son of Adam and Margaret Mary (Ludwig) Swin. Peter's brother, George Swin, married Caroline's sister, Emma Walter. The Swin/Swinn name has been Americanized, however the true spelling has not been ascertained. It is at least Schwinn but could have been Gschwind or another deviation



For years the family shared a log cabin with Peter's father and his brother George's family. The cabin was built in the mid 1850's and was still standing in the 1950's but was torn down sometime thereafter.



On 22 July 1879, for one dollar, Adam Swin deeded his son Peter forty nine acres in section five of Monroe Twp. By 1903 Peter and Caroline had purchased land in Harrison Twp. and built a new house and barn there. This home was still standing in 1978 and appeared sound but not in very good condition. The 1916-1921 Farm Journal indicates Peter owned 120 acres.

George was the son of Adam and Margaret Mary (Ludwig) Swin and a brother to Peter Swin (see 3A). He was a farmer all of his life.

George left a will [14] whereby he gave his daughter Mary $500 to equalize her inheritance as he had given his other children money but had not given any to her. After that, his children were to share equally in the remainder of his estate. His real estate had an appraised value of $15,250. He had two parcels of land, both in Monroe Twp. The lot in section 18 was ten acres and the other parcel was just over 99 acres located in section 5.

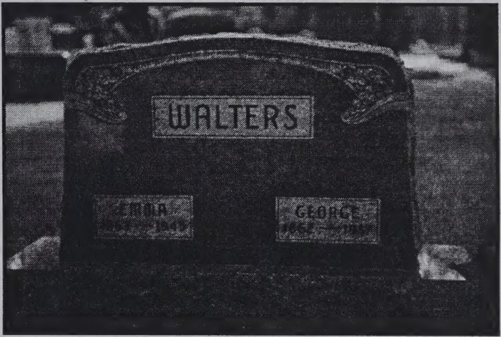
George was a foreman at the hoop factory in the early 1900's but by 1920 he was a laborer for the "steam" railroad. He was ill for some time before suffering a fatal heart attack. Emma also had an extended illness.

George wrote his will on 12 June 1928.[18] He gave all his real estate and personal property to his wife during her lifetime. He then directed that if there should not be enough money for her support, she may sell some of the property. If any of his children should care for her and tend her in her last sickness, for a period of sixty days or more, that child would receive $200. After Emma's death all the property, real and personal, should be equally divided amongst his three children.



Emma was the daughter of Levi and Rebecca (Pennel) Fellers.

b: August 1871 in Ohio
d: 7 April 1931 Monroe Twp. Henry Co. OH[38]
bur: St. John's Church, Flat Rock Twp. Henry Co. OH

Lewis was the son of Philip and Catharina (Freund) Fahrer.

Lewis had sixty acres in Sec. 17 of Monroe Twp. and 100 acres in Sec. 19 of Harrison Twp. His farm was a splendid, show place farm and a fun place to visit. He enjoyed his visitors, clowning around, putting on his "Indian" hat with hair and feathers sticking out and showing the "city" children how to shuck corn, make apple cider and otherwise entertain them for the day. His horses were one of the large varieties, similar to Clydesdales, and he often had them in fairs, winning many ribbons and awards.

At times Lewis worked away from the farm and in February 1900, while working at the Honeck Stave Mill, he broke and mangled his arm when it caught in a hub machine.

The Henry Co. Signal reported Lewis committed suicide which was also the official cause of death. However, even today, family members do not believe it was so as he had too good of a disposition to allow the repudiated incident to affect him to that depth of desperation. The report indicates Lewis was despondent over his son being arrested in connection with a robbery in Toledo. It was felt, that although this sadden and probably angered Lewis, this would not cause him to commit such an act and in realty, the fatal injury was accidental. He had arisen and told Tillie he was going to get a drink of water. Shortly after she heard a shot and found Lewis lying in the front yard, wounded with his shotgun at his side. He was rushed to the hospital but could not be saved.

Tillie remained on the farm until an advanced age and then went to a nursing home. She was a member of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Joseph

Joseph was the son of Samuel and Anna (Roth) Krieger. He was raised in the Ridgeville Corners area of Henry Co. but after he married, he purchased a farm seven miles north of Archbold OH.

After Joe's death, Lizzie auctioned off the farm equipment and then rented the acreage to other farmers. From the October 7, 1908 auction flyer, it appears it was a well outfitted farm as the equipment list included three wagons, buggy, corn planter, binder, land roller, hay loader, 2-horse cultivator, 5 shovel corn plow. 3 walking and one riding plow, platform scales and eighteen foot and six foot ladders.

As a widow, Lizzie needed to work to support her four young children. She had a contract to pick up milk cans from the area farmers and deliver them to the Pet Milk company for processing. She also did the laundry for a boarding house in Pettisville. She was paid fifty cents a week for this job! Through this, she met Hermen Reining who was living at the boarding house while working at a local foundry as a molder.

Hermen

Hermen came to America as a six month old baby with his parents John Henry and Elizabeth Dorothy (Schult) Reining on the S.S. Westphalia. He married 1) Lena Schilling of Delphos, OH on 16 December 1898 in Muskingum Co. MI. Lena died 22 September 1904 in Delphos OH.

[39] Fulton Co. Tribune - 2 October 1908

Hermen & Lizzie ca 1915

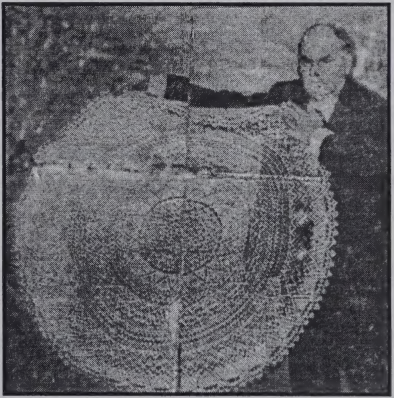
Hermen moved many times, including to the surrounding states, as he pursued his work which was typical of his trade at that time. As stated, he was working near Pettisville OH when he met Lizzie. Evidently he was smitten by her quite quickly as he offered to pay her fifty cents a week to do just his laundry. She refused that offer but did accept his marriage proposal.

They lived in Fulton Co. for awhile and then moved to Owosso MI between 1911 and 1915. About 1918 they came to Toledo and during the next dozen years, Lizzie worked many jobs. She was a floor lady at a garment factory, worked seasonally at the catsup factory, crocheted covers for DeVilbiss atomizers, tipped umbrellas at home and finally in 1929 began working at the Toledo Hospital Laundry. She remained on the last job twenty-four years, until she was seventy five. She was boarding the bus to go home one day, slipped and broke her hip. She recovered and was active for the next few years, but then slowly deteriorated.

Lizzie was a master at crocheting yet she never learned to read a pattern. She would see a piece she liked and copy it, or take a pattern and follow the picture. She made anything you can imagine including antimacassar sets, ruffled and plain doilies, towel edgings and trim. One piece I wish I had seen was the Last Supper her cousin commissioned to hang in St. Johns Church in Napoleon. The church later burned and the piece was not saved.



Hermen did a needlework too. No one knows a name for it but it was very distinctive and delicate. He used crochet thread and a darning needle on which he ground the point even duller than it came. He would make series of sailors knots and could make a symmetrical piece in round, rectangular or square shapes. He could even duplicate his designs as he also made antimacassar sets. He tried to teach me this craft but at seven years of age, I was just too young to grasp it. Some forty years later we were at an estate sale when I saw a piece of his needlework for sale. As I said, it was very distinctive and I was sure I had a matching piece at home. I was nearly hyperventilating, while trying to appear calm, when I asked the price. They stated twenty-five cents! I thought it was worth much more than that and was happy to have it in my collection.

Aunt Katie was the first person I wrote to when I stared researching this family. Included in her helpful answer was the fact that the family was from Sandusky.

The family lived in the city of Napoleon on E. Barns St. for some years and then moved to a farm in Marion Twp. Henry Co. After 1920 they moved to a farm in Evansport.

Roland was the son of Jacob Knepper. Roland was a jolly man and always entertained the children with little dances and jokes at the family reunions.

[47] Toledo Blade Obituary

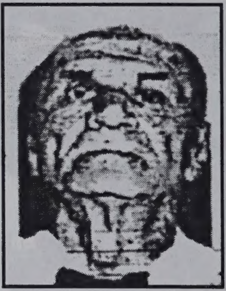
The Toledo Blade carried an announcement of William and Mary's 50th wedding anniversary in it's 27 July 1945 issue. It stated they were born and reared on adjoining farms in Henry Co. OH.

A February 1950 issue of the Napoleon Northwest Signal included a "50 Years Ago" column. It mentioned "The largest stick of ship timber ever to arrive in Napoleon was brought here by William Jeakles. It measured 37 inches square and was 50 feet in length, from a white oak tree grown on the Fred Gerken farm. It was shipped out of Napoleon via the canal." Since this was an interesting tidbit I looked for something in the 1900 issue to see if there was more to the story but failed to find anything.



William was a sheriff in Henry Co. for a term or two encompassing 1906 and at the time was the youngest sheriff they had ever had. He also boxed professionally, was a fight manager and a general building contractor. They moved to Tiffin about 1938 and in their later years lived on the east side of Toledo.

Henry served in the Army during WWI.

An October 26, 1939 Toledo Times article relates that Sarah was suing the Wood Co. Ohio sheriff, Arnold Isch, and USF & G insurance company, for the death of her husband. Henry was beaten at a kangaroo court session at the Wood County jail thirteen days before his death. His crime was that he did not send his kids to school because they did not have proper clothing or food. He said he was on relief and did not have the funds to provide those things for his eight minor children. The results of the suit are not known.

Only four of these eight children have been positively identified and I do not know whether any children were born of Cora. Henry Albert Swin of Wayne, OH attended the Walter, Lehmann, Goebelt Reunion in 1943.

George had worked at the Overland[79] but was experiencing some type of health problem and was out of work in 1914. One evening, in a despondent state over these things, he swallowed carbolic acid and died an agonizing death within the half hour. His brother William heard his wails of agony and rushed to George's room but could do nothing for him. George's death certificate states he was single so it is likely he and Blanche divorced[80] between 1910 and 1914 and this likely did not help his state of mind.

[85] Northwest News April 6, 1922

Napoleon Northwest News reported on 4 November 1937 that Lillian was elected for a third term as Republican City Treasurer. Her victory was 1140 votes to the 696 of her opponent.

Harry served in the Spanish-American War, the Mexican border campaign and in WWI, attaining the rank of Major.[86] He first enlisted in the regular army and saw action in Cuba. He then went to the Philippines. After his discharge he joined the Ohio National Guard, was in Co. F and commissioned as Captain. This company was called to duty for the Mexican campaign and Harry was in command of the Napoleon company. In July 1916 he re-enlisted in the regular army and two years later the unit went to Europe. They saw combat in the Meuse-Argonne, St. Mihiel, Ypres, Lys and in Alsace-Lorraine[87] and he was presented the Belgium War Cross by King Albert.[88] Harry declined the first offer of the rank of Major so he could remain with his local group but before they returned home he accepted. He was discharged on 3 May 1919 at Camp Sherman in Ohio.

Full military honors were given Harry at his funeral by members of the 148th. Infantry, the American Legion and former members of Co. F. Officers who served overseas with Major Lowry were pall bearers and a firing squad formed an honorary escort. The casket was on a caisson drawn by four horses and at the cemetery the honor salute by the firing squad was given.

Albert served in the Army during WWI. As a young man Albert was resistive and ran with a wild crowd as is typical to say. This led him to trouble with the law, an arrest and some jail time however, it appears he only had the one demoralizing episode. This incident was given as the reason for his father's death[127] and had to be very difficult publicity to live with.

Jaekle Brothers Feature of Card

Not many brothers have made good in the ring. There are cases, of course, where two members of a family have won fame, but they are far between.

The Sullivans, Jack and Twin; Leach and Marty Cross; the Attells, just about cover the field of prominent boxer-brothers.

Monday night at the Empire theater, the Jackle brothers, Kayo and Battling, are on the card. They are Ohio lads, hailing from Bradner, and Bradner fans were in Toledo Monday with ringside seats, expecting to see the home boys win.

Kayo Jackle, star of the family, meets Battling Budd, the best lightweight in the South, in the 12-round final; Battling Jackle meets Kid Lucky, said to be a rough house scrapper from Dayton, in the semi-final.

The third bout will be changed, owing to the illness of Jack Darry, who has contracted a Summer cold. Someone will substitute with Kid Lucas, who came up from Dayton to meet Darry.

Clyde was a lightweight boxer of some renown. His ring name was K.O. or sometimes written Kayo. The 3 May 1923 Napoleon Northwest News reported his upcoming bout with Charlie White of Chicago. A few weeks later the Toledo Times reported that K.O. won on a decision in a fight with Bobby Ward. The crowd hooted K.O. as he walked from the ring as they felt Ward was leading in the bout when Jeakle called the foul. He was to have a fight in Columbus OH on the following June 4th and if he won that, it would put him in contention as a title holder. On August 6, 1923[145] both K.O. and his brother "Battling" were on the card at the Empire Theater in Toledo. Many Bradner fans were expected to have ringside seats for this event. There was a lot of interest in the 4th. of July 1924 fight in Bowling Green OH [146] between K.O. and Charley O'Connell. It was touted as the biggest and best fight attraction in the state for that day. The bout went a full 12 rounds ending in a draw. It was a "thriller thruout, hard fought and with a suspicion of unfair tactics occasionally prevailing." It continued saying that O'Connell was the better boxer but did not have the punch to put him (Jeakle) away but Jeakle's aggressiveness offset O'Connells advantage.

The Toledo Times April 4, 1925 issue reported the sad news that Clyde would not be able to fight again. He had lost the sight in his left eye and the sight in his right eye was failing rapidly. His left eye was injured in a fight the year before while the right optic nerve had been injured the previous January. He was at the zenith of his career when this tragedy struck as he was the leading contender for the lightweight title.

After his boxing career was over he opened the K.O. Jeakle's Cafe on Western Ave. in Toledo OH. To the amazement of many, he was able to run the tavern and make change by himself.

Clifford was also a boxer, known as "Battling Jeakle." He was not as famous as his brother but still had a considerable reputation. It was felt he tried even harder after his brother lost his sight, to take Kayo's place as a pugilistic star. He started as a lightweight but moved up to the welterweight division. He was facing Dave Burke in a semi-final round at the Armory in Toledo when the Toledo Times wrote of his great promise.

He worked for Willys-Overland for twenty years and then was a security guard for the City of Toledo for seventeen years, retiring in 1968.

[178] Obituary

Benton enlisted in the Air Force on 8 September 1942 and was stationed in England. He attained the rank of Technical Sergeant and was serving with the 8th. Bomber command as a radio operator and sight gunner on a B-17. On January 27, 1944 the Henry Co. Signal reported Benton and three other Henry Co. soldiers were missing in action in Germany. On March 10th. Marveline received the dreaded telegram telling of Benton's death.

Later the bomber's navigator, John Haus, wrote a report of the incident. He stated the number three engine was damaged by enemy fire and due to the loss of power and unfeathered prop, it was impossible to stay in formation. As soon as they dropped away from the other planes, the enemy came to finish them off. The plane nose dived and soon caught fire. The bombardier motioned to Haus that it was time to parachute out. He landed near the town of Bad Munder-en-Diester in Hanover. He was soon captured and taken to a German hospital where he learned the fate of the rest of the crew. Only two others had lived.

Marveline was the daughter of Commodore Perry and Estella Leoma (Burnham) West. She belonged to the Altar Guild of St. John Episcopal Church and it's Church Women group.

This story was written by Mark A. Stegeman: Joann's loves were her husband, family and her piano. She began playing the piano at a young age and when she was eighteen years old she took out a loan to buy a baby grand. She played on a radio show with one of her friends on a regular basis. Many a Christmas was spent around the piano with family singing Christmas carols and she often played the piano at night, after putting her children to bed. What a way to fall asleep for her kids. She also played the organ at All Saints Lutheran Church for about twenty years.

Joann began working at The Toledo Home Building and Loan Association while she was a student at Whitney High School. Upon graduating, she was a secretary to the President and held various other positions until she left in 1961 to raise her family. After John's death she returned to work at what is now Standard Home Federal. She started back as a teller and progressed to mortgage origination and marketing.

Joann loved people and always found the positive in any situation. She enjoyed playing bridge, riding her bicycle, playing tennis, bowling and travel. She and John also attended many of the "Pops" concerts, the symphony and plays. Most of all, John and Joann loved their family and were very proud of their children. Joann was especially proud of her grandchildren and was often at their sporting events, school activities or would just stop by to see one. She taught her only granddaughter, one year old Mackenzie, to blow kisses only twelve hours before she died.

John was the son of John G. and Helen M. (Saver) Stegeman, Sr. During high school and college he, along with many of his friends, worked for his father who was a painting contractor. "Juney" received a Bachelor of Business Administration from the University of Toledo. After college, John joined Allied Chemical as a plant accountant and during his nineteen years with the company he became the divisional controller. They lived only five minutes from work so John often went home at lunch time to eat with his family.

John was an avid baseball fan and attended many Detroit Tiger and Toledo Mud Hen games. He jokingly said that if Joann had not liked baseball and U. of T. football, they would never have gotten married!

Joann and John were very involved parents in school and sporting activities. The family did many things together including a summer vacation to see historical places and sights and an annual trip to Cedar Point. The family joined all Saints Lutheran Church in the late 1960's where John was the financial secretary for the Church Building Fund.

John also liked to play tennis and bowl. They joined the Laurel Hill Swim and Tennis Club where the entire family could spend many hours of enjoyment. At the club, while helping with a youth party, John collapsed, a tragic victim of a massive heart attack.

We will miss them dearly.

b: 15 October 1834 in Weingarten, Baden

bur: Pleasant Grove Cemetery, Clayton IA [4]

John was born at nine in the evening and baptized at two the next afternoon.[5] His godparents were Johann Diebold of Meldorf[6] and his wife Margaretha Keller. The witnesses were Martin Leudmann and Joseph Nuemans, both citizens of Hockenheim.

John was about fifteen when his family immigrated. He was naturalized in September 1852 in Erie Co. Ohio Court of Common Pleas, during the same ceremony as his brother George.

In the 1850 Erie Co. census[7] John is living with his mother, two brothers and his occupation was listed as a laborer. The 1855 Sandusky City Directory lists his occupation as a painter and this is the occupation he continued to pursue.

He was a member of Emmanuel United Church of Christ in Sandusky and the family register[8] gives his birth, marriage, first two children's birth and information on Margaretha. This church is still in existence and the record books are available to read although they are written in old German script. John and George apparently were the only two of the family to join this church.

As with many surnames, Margaretha's has been spelled or misspelled several ways. She was the daughter of Ludwig and Hannah (Jinde) Kögele. Ludwig and Hannah went to Iowa to live with Margaretha however, Hannah disliked it so much she returned to Sandusky. Ludwig is buried in Iowa and Hannah in Sandusky.

In February 1854 John purchased 15 Camp St. in Sandusky[9] which he and Margaret sold 17 March 1856.[10] They were still residents of Sandusky when they sold the property, and we know now, they were preparing to move west.

After living a short time in Prairie du Chein WI and Dubuque IA, John, his family and his brother Peter and his family, settled in McGregor IA by 1860. The brothers were both listed in the census as painters and decorators.[11] By 1876 the brothers had expanded and were then furniture merchants and in the undertaking business which was a common combination in early years. Peter was the business manager and John was the expert painter and decorator.

Home and Business

In 1860 John stated his real estate was valued at $300. In another ten years his real estate value had escalated to $2500 and he had $500 in personal property. Information indicates he and brother Peter had adjoining houses but in reality they were apartments over their business.

Their furniture store was the, or one of the, first businesses in McGregor. The store was located on lot seven and the southwest half of lot six, in Block 8. John and Peter purchased this property in April 1862 for $800 with a $725 mortgage.[12] On 5 March 1868 they purchased lot fourteen in Block 8 for $675.[13]

Walter & Brother had an advertisement in the 1 June 1876 North Iowa Times. They stated they were manufacturers of all kinds of cabinet ware and dealers in all kinds of furniture - undertaking a specialty. They kept a stock of Fisk's burial cases along with plain and finished black walnut coffins of all sizes. They also stated they had a splendid hearse which would be furnished when desired.

John and Peter were founding members of the German Presbyterian Church in McGregor in 1862. This church was a very important part of their lives and their affiliation was mentioned in most biographies and the county histories.

The Elkader Register[14] stated John became ill while sweeping snow in front of his home and business. He was unconscious and his condition was considered serious,[15] but he rallied and it seemed he would recover, however, he died a short time after. The North Iowa Times obituary stated Walter Bros. was the largest furniture dealer in Clayton Co. It continued by saying John "was always of a cheerful disposition, always having a kind word for every one, which made him honored and respected by all."

On 22 August 1908,[16] Mary Walter, widow of Peter, Margaret Walter, widow of John, Mary and Peter Zahn, Minnie and Augustus Busch, Mamie Jellineck and Katherine and Daniel Phelps sold lot fourteen in Block 8 for $250. Mary was the sole owner of one half of the property and the others jointly owned the other half. In October 1914, Mary and Peter Zahn, Margaret Walter and Mamie Jellineck sold an undivided half interest in lot seven, Block 8 for $650.

Margaret lived alone for awhile and then alternated between her daughter's homes until her death. Her obituary states she was a kind and loving mother, highly respected, admired and loved for her fine traits of character and qualities of heart. [17]

In Margaretha's will, she left her daughter Mary several pieces of property that Mary was to own in her own right. She also left Mary one half of her interest in the furniture business of Walter Bros. carried on in the building on lot seven in Block 8. The other half of the business interest she gave to her granddaughters Mamie and Kittie Jellineck to share equally. She also gave her granddaughter Mamie what interest she had left in lots seven and fourteen in Block 8.

Augustus Busch was a minister and was the guest speaker at the Presbyterian Church the Walter's attended in McGregor, when he met Minnie. His first wife had recently died and it shocked some people when a mere four months after meeting, he and Minnie married. As a minister, the family moved quite often and the birth places of their children will show many of the places they resided.

Carmel German Presbyterian

Augustus was installed at Carmel German Presbyterian Church in Philadelphia, PA on October 15, 1891. At that time, the one story church, built of pressed brick and brownstone, sat eighty people while they had a membership of 65 and the Sunday School membership was 164. The congregation intended to make it a two story building as soon as they were financially able.

After the family went to Philadelphia, Augustus and Minnie and many of their children remained in that area. Most of the Busch children attended college which seems a formidable feat considering how large the family was and the wages of a clergyman.

Caroline and Frank moved to Red Wing MN shortly after their marriage. Red Wing is a Mississippi River town sitting on high bluffs and in the 1870's was considered the wheat capital of the world. They were listed in the 1880 census[24] and Caroline's sister, Mary Walter, was with them, probably assisting in caring for the children. It is fortunate this census was taken early in the summer or there would be no documentation for the family together.

Caroline

Kitty & Mayme

Caroline succumbed to child bed fever and Frank died a few years later. As a result of these untimely deaths, Mayme and Katherine went to McGregor IA to be raised by their Walter grandparents.

He was born about 1861 in MN and later became a dentist. They lived in Fairbault, Rice Co. MN 1914 to 1920 and Rome, Oneida Co. NY in the 1930's. Mary attended public and German school until her hearing became impaired. In her later years, after she was totally deaf, she lived with her daughters, spending a week at a time with each one. She was originally a member of the German Presbyterian church in McGregor but later attended the Congregational Church.

Mary and Peter had and interesting and ornate marriage certificate with their pictures on it. Mary's brother-in-law Augustus Busch performed the ceremony.

Peter owned at least 112 acres of farm land plus a one acre lot in McCraneys addition of McGregor. He was a member of the M.W.A. and B.A.Y. Lodges.

Both Peter and Mary left wills. Peter wrote his on the day he died.[33] He left all his property in the United States to his wife and all the real estate and personal property that he might inherit from his Uncle George Zahn, who resided in a "foreign country" to his children. Mary's will packet[34] was not available for viewing but the administrative entries included land descriptions.

Mary's obituary[35] stated she "was a true friend to all. She was possessed of every good quality but above all she shone as a perfect mother and homemaker and her life was centered in her family."

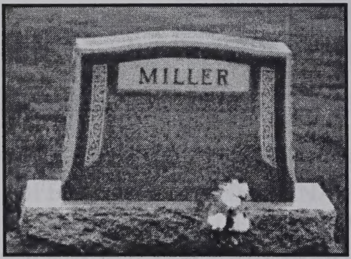
When Carl and Marge first married they lived in a home on the corner of his parent's farm. After a few years they built a new house and farm buildings on one hundred acres nearby. They remained in this home until Carl's death, then Marge sold the farm to their son Earl and bought a house in McGregor. As a sideline business Carl owned and operated a steam powered threshing machine and would hire out to other area farmers.



Marge and Carl were active in their church, the First Congregational of McGregor. Over the years she contributed her time as the Superintendent of the Sunday School, Sunday School teacher and the President of the Ladies' Society.

After Marge moved to town she worked at Davies Grocery Store, sewed, crocheted, embroidered and quilted.[46]

David was the son of Leo and Catherine McGill. In 1937 David rented space in the Farmers Cooperative Creamery and processed milk and delivered it from there. In 1941 Edna and David purchased a building on Main Street in McGregor and moved the dairy to the lower level. They had a sales room and a dairy bar in the front of the building. Over time, their dairy became the best equipped in the area with such items as a separator, homogenizer, pasteurizer, cottage cheese vat and bottle washer. They remodeled the upstairs of this building for their own living quarters.

They sold the dairy in 1954 and moved to Prairie du Chien WI. There they started the McGill's Cafe and operated it until 1969. Dave then worked several jobs including clerking at a Coast to Coast Hardware. After they closed the Cafe Edna worked in a Ben Franklin store, retiring from there at age 62. She was a Bookkeeper.

Peter was born at one a.m. and baptized[1] at two the following afternoon. His godparents were Peter Keller and his wife Anna Barbara Drier Keller. The witnesses were George Sessler and Sigmund Görenflu.

In 1850 Peter was living with his mother and two brothers in Sandusky, Erie Co. OH.[2] While living there we know he was a member of a singing group, the Sandusky Gun Club and became a painter and decorator.

There were several references that Mary was Peter's second wife however, nothing was found to document another marriage. It was probably a very short marriage as Peter was only twenty-three when he married the second time.

The 1855 Sandusky City Directory shows Peter living with his brother George but Peter bought his own house on August 22nd of that year. This home was at 22 Jackson St. in Sandusky and he bought it from his brother Michael. On July 3, 1856,[3] Peter and Mary were in Dubuque IA and they sold this property in Sandusky apparently having decided they would not be returning to Ohio.

When the Walter brothers founded their furniture and undertaking business, Peter was the business manager and a licensed embalmer. However, his love of music sometimes overshadowed his business as he states in the 1880 census[4] that he was a musician and Mary said she was the undertaker and a housewife.

As mentioned in John's story, Peter and his brother owned property together in McGregor. They lived in adjoining houses (or apartments) above their furniture store on Ann St.

In 1862 Peter, his brother John and several other people, founded the German Presbyterian Church in McGregor IA. In the early years, the services were held in the back of their furniture shop with a minister preaching in German. At one time or another Peter served the church as an elder, Sunday school teacher, superintendent and of course, musical director. On 22 April 1875, Peter instigated and planned a "Grand German American Concert" to raise money to purchase a bell for their church.

Peter's musical interest and activities dominated what is known of his life. He joined the "Old McGregor Band" but after that dissolved, he formed his own band. Needing more players, and likely because he wanted his children to enjoy music as much as he did, Peter taught all his children to play a musical instrument. He converted the old carpenter shop at the factory into a band room. Every week day night the band gathered for a rehearsal. The original band[5] was only Peter, John A. and Will but the three youngest girls joined in later and the band was said to be the first family band in America.. They had great receptions wherever they went largely because of the girls. They not only played men's instruments (horns) but they also marched in parades which were both unheard of in that day. The "Walter Family Band" was in existence from 1878 to 1892.

In the summers during the 1880's they played on Diamond Jo excursion boats on the Mississippi River from St. Louis MO to St. Paul MN. While on the packets, the band was to play at every landing, entertain during the ride and play very loudly when they passed a rival steamer that had no band. Sometimes dancing was available on board but gambling was more popular. Peter would sometimes take in a game of euchre at which he was considered an expert and could hold his own against the professional gamblers. They also played for several seasons at the "The Veiled Prophet" which was a carnival festival in St. Louis MO.

The Ringling family of circus fame, lived in McGregor for about twelve years. Their harness shop was across the street from the Walter home and business. The youngest son, Alf, was the same age and a playmate of John A. The Ringlings left McGregor for Baraboo WI but they and the Walters kept in touch. After the circus was organized and the family band established, Al Ringling offered Peter a partnership in his circus. Peter decided that the family furniture business had a much better outlook for the future and politely declined. However, when the Ringlings first went on the road with a small wagon, the Walter Family Band did play for them at Prairie du Chein and other Wisconsin and Iowa towns.

Peter, Tillie, Mattie and John A. also performed as a singing quartet, and after Tillie married, Emma took her place. Peter had an excellent bass voice and Tillie was an exceptionally fine alto. After Mattie married, the group disbanded.

The band played at many types of gatherings and many of them gratuitously. Notes from Iowa papers: April 29, 1880 - "The Walter Family Band of McGregor, are to give a concert and ball at Garnavillo sometime next month." May 6, 1880 the McGregor Times - "The Walter Family Band are to give a concert at the Athenaeum, in a short time." July 8, 1880 Elkport News-Elkader Register - "The Walter's Family Band passed through this place last Sunday on their way to Mallory township to play for a celebration." July 1, 1885 - "Fifth Annual Reunion of the Ancient Order of United workmen of Clayton Co. was held. The first arrival was the Walter Family Band, which furnished the music for the occasion and here let us say that this band is one of the best that has ever visited our town, furnishing some excellent music."

On August 8, 1885 they played at a Memorial Service for General Ulysses S. Grant.

They performed a "May Festival Concert" in 1890. The proceeds from this concert were for the Walter Family Band in appreciation of all the good works and gratuities they had given before. The collection was about $100.

J. F. [illegible] PRINTER.

On one occasion they played on the Steamer "Ruby" while it sailed to Coney Island. "A good number of people enjoyed the Walter's Band." In 1893/4 part of the band was touring with the Cook & Whitby circus with John A. as the band leader.

Peter's obituary was a long and eloquent affair.[6] He was "The most sincere and earnest of Christians, the sweetest of musicians, and the kindest and most loyal of friends." It stated his great quality of music was from a deep psychological and intellectual conception that only the chosen few can have. The little church he loved so well was far too small to hold the number of friends and neighbors who came to pay their last respects. They said they could spend much time enumerating his sterling qualities but the phrase "He was a good man" said it all.

[6] North Iowa Times - 29 November 1906

Peter wrote a very simple will [7] in April 1902. After stating his debts be paid, he left everything to his wife and named her executor. After Peter's death, Mary lived with her children for various periods of time.

One of the most unique discoveries on this family was a set of photographs taken in 1869. Peter, Mary and all seven children! Each picture had the person's name, age and the date taken written on it. Finding perfectly preserved photos that were nearly 125 years old was unusual enough, but these pictures were taken in McGregor IA and were found in Napoleon OH! This discovery is one of the clues that the family did keep in touch with each other even after they dispersed to various areas of the country.

5F WILLIAM N. WALTER was born 2 September 1866 in McGregor, Clayton Co. IA. He was only eight when he began playing with the family band and the only child to make music his life's work. His father was his first teacher, but later he studied with Liberati of New York City who was then a famous cornet soloist. Will played for the Ransom Dramatic Company, Beach and Bowers Minstrels, Wallace Circus, Primrose and Wests Minstrels and Ringling Brother's Circus.[8] When vaudeville was in vogue, he was part of the Howe, Wall and Walter Musical Act. A February 1886 notice was found that he was to play the Silver Stream Polka, as a cornet solo, at the Dolphin Boat Club Concert. In a 1913 issue of the North Iowa Times, they reported "Professor Billy Walter left last Saturday for Columbus OH for a two week rehearsal with A. G. Fields famous Minstrel troupe. Mr. Walter is the leader of the band, composed of the best musicians in the country." He spent his last fifteen working years with Fields touring the country and it was in this period he became famous for his cornet solos.

[7] Clayton Co. IA Probate - Case #2394

[8] At least in 1891 and 1895

He built a cottage on Bergman's Island out from McGregor and there he and his mother spent their summer months. He enjoyed fishing and boating around the area.

Will became ill with tuberculosis and lived awhile with his sister Emma in McGregor and then with sister Hannah in Dubuque. He was hospitalized at the Sunny Crest Sanitarium in May 1923 and was bedridden until his death on 18 August 1923. Even in sickness he never complained and maintained his cheerful disposition. He is buried at Pleasant Grove Cemetery, McGregor IA.

Will was a member of A.F. & A.M. in McGregor, the Elks Lodge #297 in Dubuque, the Musician's Union in Chicago and later in Dubuque. A notice of his death was in The Billboard, an entertainment newspaper. It stated, in theatrical circles he was considered one of the best cornetists in the country.

At some time in his life he married and divorced MINNIE but the only mention found of this marriage was on his death certificate. (see pictures on page 244)

Cousin June Davies said the family pronounced Otillia as "At-a-lee." This Otillia was also often called Tillie.

It was a great surprise when I found this marriage record in Henry Co. OH. Although Otillia had an uncle and many cousins living in Henry Co. at that time, one wonders what circumstances brought them so many miles east to marry.

It was also a great disappointment that I could not find this family in later years. The family was in Platteville, Grant Co. WI in the 1880 census and Henry was a wagon maker. By 1900, Tillie was still there, is listed as a widow and she said she had seven children with six still living. In 1910 she is a widow and had seven children with five of them still living. The seventh child must have died as an infant since I was able to identify six of her children but not the seventh. The 1920 Grant Co. census shows Matilda as the head of the house and Jenny Pitts her daughter-in-law is living with her. Even though Ottilia listed herself as a widow, it is suspected she and Henry might have divorced as a Henry Pitts, wagon maker, and the correct age, continues to appear in the Grant Co. censuses.

John remained in McGregor so his life is better documented than his sisters. He went to the public schools of McGregor for his early education. In 1879 he began the study of dentistry under Dr. H.O. Kent and spent the next three years there. He also served an apprenticeship with Dr. A. Hunt. John opened his own office in 1881 and continued to practice nearly sixty years. He was considered a very good dentist and had the latest equipment in his office. His specialty was crown and bridge work and was noted for supplying properly fitting teeth. He was one of the founders of the North Iowa Dental Society and in 1902 was elected President of the group and a member of Iowa State Dental Society.

DR. J. A. WALTER, Director of Music.

John A. was one of the original members of the Walter family band. After their band disbanded in 1892 John continued as leader with other local musicians and doing solo entertaining. For his part in a concert at the Dolphin Boat Club, he played the Euphonium, doing a solo of "Le Reve d'Amour." The Walter Opera Co. held a program on April 19, 1892 at the Turner Hall in Elkader.

An article about 1938 in the North Iowa Times chronicled some of John's achievements as well as those of his son J. Frederick. This article stated John still played the cornet with the agility and brilliant tone of a much younger person. John related that his first public performance was on July 4, 1876 starting with a parade and then playing for the tent show put on by the Ringling boys in a vacant lot in town.

A later article[10] stated at 79, John still practiced almost every evening as he had done since a boy of twelve. He had a music room in his home which resembled a music museum. A cabinet held a library of band, orchestra, trio, duet and solo music accumulated over seventy years. He owned some first editions of Sousa marches and other rare compositions. The walls were covered with pictures of the Walter Family band, posters of Al G. Fields Gold band[11] and a newspaper article noting the fame of brother William's cornet playing. There were also a number of pictures of the Ringling brothers at various stages of their rise to circus fame.

John was a Democrat and was elected Mayor of McGregor in 1897 and served continuously until 1911. He was again elected in 1921 serving until 1927. He was also an organizer of the League of Iowa Municipalities in 1898, was elected president in 1902 and later served on the executive committee.

The McGregor Museum has a number of artifacts and pictures of John and his son J. Frederick. The son had followed his father in many endeavors including serving on the Iowa League of Municipalities and being Mayor of McGregor and most items are in connection with these efforts.

John belonged to many other organizations including the International Order of Odd Fellows, the Masons and the Knights of Pythias.

Odilda was the daughter of Frederick and Margaret (Daubenberger) Bergman. Her death came very unexpectedly. Her obituary states she was a kind industrious and generous person which would make her an ideal Mayor's wife. Her funeral service was one of the largest assemblages of people McGregor had experienced and some came good distances to attend.

John died a few hours after suffering a heart attack. His funeral service was conducted at his home by Pastor Horsfield of St. Mary's Catholic Church but the graveside services were conducted by Pastor Webster of the Methodist Church. The stores and business of McGregor were closed during the services in honor of his being a past Mayor.

In addition to playing the cornet in the family band, Emma also played piano and sang at many church, club and school functions. She was the Congregational Church choir director and Sunday school superintendent for many years.

Emma graduated from McGregor High school in 1881 and Dayton had graduated a year earlier. They were both active in the public and social life of McGregor.

Dayton was the son of Ira and Julia (Gilchrist) Benjamin. He worked a short while at the Michigan Central Railroad Co. in Chicago but returned to McGregor to open a shoe store. He was well liked and entertained frequently by performing sleight of hand. In later years he was also the district agent for the Woodman Accident Co.

Emma and Dayton ran the shoe store in McGregor for many years. An undated photograph shows the store in the E.R. Barron building which was erected in 1884. Another picture in the same era shows the street flooded and appears it had recently receded from covering the sidewalk.

Emma must have also enjoyed writing as she authored several articles in the 1940's for the North Iowa Times. These stories reminiscing about the Walter Family Band were very helpful in putting this chapter together.

Shortly after Dayton's death, Emma went to live with her daughter, Kathryn, in Cincinnati OH. Emma had broken her leg shortly before her death and as with many elderly, it hastens their departure. She lived in Cincinnati about twenty years and was apparently active in the community as there was a viewing and service in Cincinnati before her body was taken back to McGregor[24] for burial.

Little is known of Anna's adult life but Harry led a very public life. He had several occupations or a progression of occupations. He was a clerk on the river boats, a teacher and a traveling salesman. He attended Northwestern Normal at Genesco and took his teachers course at Northern Indiana in Valparaiso. He was a principal for five years at Cordova but then went to Rock Island in January 1891 to work at Hartz and Bahnsen, a wholesale drug company. He started as an office clerk but later became a tri-city salesman. About 1911 he started selling insurance and taught salesmanship. By 1912 he was the District Manager of the Phoenix Mutual Life Co.'s Rock Island office. Because of his great salesmanship, he conducted classes and seminars in many midwestern states.

Harry suffered from an "organic" problem and had four major operations, performed at the Mayo Clinic, in the span of a year. After one operation he almost died but hours of artificial respiration kept him alive. He recovered quite well after his third operation and resumed teaching salesmanship however, he never fully recovered from the fourth surgery and he died four months after it was done.

He was active in the Broadway Presbyterian church as an elder, on the councils and as assistant superintendent of the Sunday school and choir. He also belonged to several organizations including Knights of Pythias and St. Paul Lodge.

Harrison, known as Harry, was the son of Jacob and Mary Thomas (Schomo) Van Duzer.

In 1920 Anna's mother, Mary Walter, was living with her and she also had several boarders. From 1920 to 1937 she worked in the claim department of the Modern Woodman of America. About 1937 Anna went to live with her daughter in the Chicago area where she died six years later of pneumonia and senility.

Hannah was also a member of the family band. In her early days of playing and marching, she was so little they had to tie a rope around her and her bass horn to help her hold it. Hannah was listed several times as a performer in Walter Family Musicales and events. She played a cornet solo at a school program on June 24, 1887. At the high school commencement in June 1888 she gave an essay on "The Influence of Music" and also played a cornet duet with sister Emma.

Charles was living in St. Louis MO when he and Hannah married. He listed his occupation as a Captain. By 1910[32] the family was living in Dubuque and Charles was a timekeeper. By 1920[33] he was a registry clerk at the U.S. Post Office.

Hannah was the last surviving child of this branch of the family. She had lived at the Bethany Home in Dubuque for some years before her death and at age ninety six, had outlived her children. She had attended Westminster Presbyterian Church and was a member of their Women's Association.

J. Fred graduated as a doctor of dental surgery from University of Iowa in 1918. He then spent the next two years as an Associate Professor at the University of Iowa Dental College. He also was in the medical reserve corps during WWI.

He was very active in the civic affairs of McGregor and Iowa. He served as a volunteer for the McGregor Fire Dept., was on the local school board, in the Conservation League, the State Fish and Game Committee and the Iowa League of Municipalities. He served this last organization as president after his father died. J. Fred was elected Mayor of McGregor in 1929, again following in his father's footsteps, and served for sixteen years.

A scrapbook in the McGregor Museum had many newspaper articles on the struggle to get a new power plant built for the McGregor area. One quote, after the successful completion of the project in 1942, was: "The one man upon whom the brunt of the light plant planning fell, and whose interest in the project never lagged, was Mayor J. Frederick Walter "Doc." [39]

From 1950 to 1958 J. Fred was the Representative of Clayton Co. to the Iowa State Legislature. His Certificate of Election is at the McGregor Museum.

J. Fred left a will[40] and in it was a request that Hilda not remarry after his death. But if she did, she then had to divide the remainder of the estate with their two daughters. The records show that among his assets, he owned a 1965 Chevelle valued at $900, several insurance policies and real estate, being mainly Lots 8 and 13 in Block 19 of McGregor that was valued at $8,500.

Hilda went to Peoria IL, where her daughter lived, to have surgery on December 29th 1969 but she was unable to recover from it. Her funeral services were held at St. Mary's

This branch has not been researched for biographical information but I expect to do so eventually.

John Michael immigrated about 1852 and lived in Sandusky near relatives. He was a "house" carpenter which I take to mean he built houses or finished interiors of homes.

On March 2, 1860 Michael bought Lot #50 on Railroad Street in Sandusky,[5] from his cousins George and Caroline Walter. He paid $300 for the property.

During the Civil War he served as a Sergeant in the Jäeger-companie which went to Camp Taylor near Cleveland on April 25, 1861. He enlisted as a 100-day soldier. John also participated to some degree in Sandusky politics. He was elected or appointed as the fourth ward assessor in 1882 but may only have served one year.
